When war drove twelve-year-old Edi and his family from their home in Kosovo, they fled across the Macedonian border to the Brazda refugee camp, a tent city that housed almost thirty thousand people. There the family shared a tent with more than twenty other people, with no kitchen, no running water, and no school for Edi to attend. Instead he helped out with the younger kids, played soccer with the other boys, and ran errands, such as waiting in the long lines for food and fresh water. Everybody was waiting in Brazda -- for news about relatives, for the war to end, for the day when they could finally go home again.

Connie Curtis:

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library in order to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's soul or real their passion. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this One Boy from Kosovo can make you sense more interested to read.
