Voice Care in the Medical Setting Danna Loeh Koschkee, Linda Rammage

This outstanding voice text is the first to address the specific needs of clinicians specializing in voice care in a medical setting. Written for clinicians from a variety of disciplines who work together to provide assessment, diagnostic, and treatment services for individuals with voice disorders, the book is a unique contribution to the literature. It offers a sensitive, patient-oriented perspective on voice care, blending two essential components-current scientific techniques and experience-based clinical understanding
