When the desired information and data would be collated in the final results of this study, government and other concerned entities --- such as developmental non-governmental organizations and international funding agencies --- could gain highly provable insights of routines and daily socio-economic and political activities (especially on economic or livelihood activities) of Muslims and members of ethnic minorities in Zamboanga City and Basilan, thus, allowing a more effective creation of economic opportunities, gaining initial foothold on a series of economic activities that the respondents are more accustomed to, and are most convenient with.
